

On a cold, windy day in South West London, Blossom House FC took a trip to King's College for a local derby. After a short warm up the match commenced, early into the match Alex Jewiss picked up a stray pass in the middle, and drove through the defence to make it 1-0 with a sweet finish into the corner. The game was end-to-end with Blossom House's defence often being tested due to a lack of stability in the midfield; then King's squandered a few chances with Charles being forced to make a couple of decent saves.

Not long after, on the counter attack, the impressive Casey latched onto a through ball from Ben and scored with the goalkeeper pouncing – OVER – the ball. It was 2-0 to Blossom house. Then King's imposing striker got through, took on his man, and scored with a driven finish into the bottom left corner. It was 2-1 and the college were right back in the match just before half time.

After half time, Blossom was often caught on the break, but after a wayward hit by one of King's fullbacks, Ben played a brilliant through ball with his chest. Abraz got onto the through pass and beat the keeper. It was 3-1. Shortly after, a misunderstanding on the right hand side led to a 4 on 3 attack from King's. This ended up with King's tricky winger blasting the ball into the roof of the net. No one could say it was underserved. Then after another mistake on the right, the same winger burst into the box and put a driven pass across the box. The ball deflected off someone, no one knows who, and dribbled into the net through the keeper's legs. A very unfortunate goal to concede for Blossom, but once more, King's goal was well deserved. Blossom picked it up after that goal but couldn't find a winner with Abraz's probing header being comfortably saved by the keeper. The game finished 3-3; no one could say it wasn't a fair result. The two teams shook hands and the match was well and truly finished.

Written by Jack Lee